LACE CURTAINS—GEO. M. SNOOK & CO.

"SURELY those Curtains are worth more than $3.97 a pair," remarked a well posted lady while in our Lace Curtain Department Saturday. Well, they most certainly are; yet $3.97 is all we ask for them, and besides, we have over 100 other styles that are EQUALLY AS CHEAP. In brief, we have inaugurated a NEW DEPARTURE in this, as well as in other departments of our business. We have bought twice as many Curtains as usual, and reduced profits fully ONE-THIRD. Another all-important point to remember is, that we handle Curtains of acknowledged stability—the sort that does not easily wear and wash into holes! We have Lace Curtains in nearly two score grades, ranging in prices from 84¢ to $26.17 per pair, and the idea of purchasing should be dismissed until you have seen our stock.

Secured a Pension.

Captain G. W. Robinson has secured for William Hamilton, a well known printer disabled by almost total loss of his eyesight, so that he can do no work, a pension of $12 a month, dating back to February, 1891. This will give him a very comfortable sum as back pay.

Probate Business.

The last will of Elizabeth Pannell was yesterday admitted to probate and ordered to be recorded.

Lulu B. Wilson was appointed guardian of Raymond Wilson, aged 14, and Alberta Wilson, aged 17, minor orphans of William R. Wilson, deceased, and gave bond in $100, with John S. Wilson as surety.

Transfer Recorded.

Clerk Hook yesterday admitted to record a deed made March 23 by Robert Nesbitt, trustee and others, to William Croghan, for $1,325, the east half of the west half of lot 69 and the east half of the west half of lot 70, except eight feet of the south side of lot 70 reserved for a private alley, on the west side of Jacob street south of Twenty-third.

Interesting Meetings.

The services in the First Presbyterian church continue with unabating interest. The pastor, Dr. Cunningham, preached last evening to a large congregation on the subject of "Seeking the Lord while He may be found." Rev. Robert Alexander, D. D., of St. Clairsville, Ohio, will preach to-night and Friday evening; his many friends in Wheeling and vicinity will give him a cordial welcome.

It Was Lockhart's Body.

Speaking of the colored man killed here Monday night, the Washington, Pa., Journal says: Alex Penilton is a colored blacksmith who boards with his wife at Mrs. Annie Lotterbery's, on East Chestnut street, this place. A Journal representative called on him Tuesday morning, and after informing him of the sad affair, it was learned that the name of the unfortunate man was Charles Lockhart. He had been about Washington for over a year, working at a dairy near here and boarding with Mrs. Lotterbery. Yesterday he concluded to go to Wheeling and catch a boat for Cincinnati. Before leaving the house Mrs. Lotterbery tore the tag off a package addressed to Alex Penilton and put it in Lockhart's pocket. He then left to catch the 9:01 train.

Lockhart was a young man about twenty-two years of age, and came here from Virginia. He was well liked by all who knew him. Two cousins, Frank and Joe Darrah, live here. A telephone message was sent to the Wheeling authorities, and the body will likely be brought here for interment.

Almost Serious.

There was a peculiar scene in the Elm Grove railway station, on Sixteenth street, yesterday. A lady was sitting on a bench in the waiting room, with a parasol in front of her, when a man came in who was smoking, and he carelessly flipped the ashes of his cigar into the parasol. In a few moments everybody smelt something burning, but nobody could imagine what it was until a little blaze sprang up in the parasol and a cloud of smoke rolled out of it which filled the room. The fire was put out amid much excitement. The parasol was ruined.

"The Private Secretary."

This famous and successful comedy will be seen at the Opera House once again on Friday and Saturday evenings and Saturday afternoon. "The Private Secretary" is a first-class comedy. Clean, bright and sparkling, no dullness or drag mars the vivacity of the plot, but a cleverly sustained action carries the spectator laughing along from start to finish. Mr. Fairbanks as the secretary does not need to speak; his stage presence is enough to make a dyspeptic laugh, and Mr. Davies as Cuttermole, the irascible but kindly old East Indian, is a clever character sketch.

Fail to Do Our Duty.

Everybody has at times failed to do their duty towards themselves. Hundreds of lady readers suffer from sick headache, nervousness, sleeplessness, and female troubles. Let them follow the example of Mrs. H. Herbechter, Stevens Point, Wis., who for five years suffered greatly from Nervous Prostration and sleeplessness, tried physicians and different medicines without success. But one bottle of Dr. Miles' Nervine caused sound sleep every night, and she is feeling like a new person. Mrs. Elizabeth Wheeler, Laramie City, Wyoming, who tried all other remedies, declares that after three weeks' use of the Nervine for Headache, Nervous Prostration, etc., she was entirely relieved. Sold by The Logan Drug Co. Trial bottle free.

A NEW PRESIDENT

Of the Terminal System Elected by the Directors.

DOES IT MEAN A NEW POLICY?

Judge Cochran, the Retiring President and the Organizer of the Company, Speaks in High Praise of the New Officers—Who They Are.

Just what the reorganization of the Wheeling Bridge and Terminal Railway Company means, no one seems to know, except, perhaps, those on the inside and those who formerly were, and the latter refuse to talk. On the eighth day of March the following gentlemen were elected directors of the company: Hon. R. H. Cochran, of Toledo; W. A. Wilson and N. E. Whitaker, of Wheeling; W. B. Thomas and R. Stearns, of Boston; A. H. Olmstead, of Hartford, Conn.; J. Kennedy Tod, R. H. Rochester and R. B. Ferris, of New York.

Judge R. H. Cochran organized what is now the Wheeling Bridge and Terminal in 1882 and wrote its charter. From the time he first took hold of the scheme until the present day, he pushed it with vigor, energy, and last, though not least, diplomacy. The way was frequently hard, and gloomy was the aspect; but chiefly through Judge Cochran's individual, and at times unaided efforts the Terminal system and all that it implies was secured to Wheeling. That the interests of this city would be best taken care of with Judge Cochran at the helm, was a natural conclusion, and it was the hope of every one here that he would continue in the office he had so ably filled.

Last Friday, however, when the directors met in New York, Mr. W. B. Thomas, of Boston, was elected to the presidency, Mr. J. Kennedy Tod, of New York, became vice president, Mr. R. B. Ferris, of the same city, secretary, and a young man in the office of J. Kennedy Tod & Co. was elected treasurer. Mr. W. A. Wilson, of Wheeling, the director who represents Ohio county's stock on the board of directors, was not present at this important meeting.

Judge Cochran was seen at the McClure House last night by an INTELLIGENCER reporter. He spoke in terms of the highest praise of the talents and capacity of each of the new officers. When asked whether he would continue in the councils of the company, he replied: "If the management pursues a policy which I can approve, and my services should be wanted, I may continue a while longer."

Judge Cochran was unable to say whether the general offices of the company would remain in Wheeling; he was of the opinion that none of the officers elected would take up his residence here.

What policy the new management will pursue, and how the interests of Wheeling may be affected, is only a matter of conjecture, but it is hoped that everything will work out for the best. Judge Cochran has received flattering offers from the present management, but has not yet signified his intentions. By those who know and appreciate the ex-president's efforts on behalf of the road, much regret was expressed that he was no longer president, and all hoped that he would see his way clear to remain identified with the company, for Wheeling's sake.

President W. B. Thomas is the son of the well known sugar man of Boston, who owns the majority of the company's stock. Mr. J. Kennedy Tod is a banker on Wall street, and is a bright, able man—to quote the words of Judge Cochran, Secretary R. B. Ferris is vice president of the Bank of New York. Mr. Thomas was here a few months ago on a visit, while Judge Cochran was out of the city, and Mr. Ferris has been here on different occasions. Judge Cochran has been requested to keep the keys and take charge of the records at the general office, pending any arrangements that may be made.

THE EDUCATIONAL EXHIBIT

Of West Virginia at the World's Fair—The Committee to Meet.

State Superintendent of Schools B. S. Morgan is in the city. He is here to attend a meeting to-day of the committee, consisting of himself and Prof. Strauss, of Parkersburg, and Prof. Anderson, of Wheeling, recently appointed by the State World's Fair Commission to prepare a West Virginia educational exhibit for the exposition. The committee will formulate its plans at to-day's meeting.

To an INTELLIGENCER reporter last night Superintendent Morgan said that West Virginia is competent to, and doubtless will, make a most creditable showing in the department of educational work. While the school system has not developed so rapidly as in larger and wealthier states, the schools of this state have attained a very high standard and rank among the best in the union. The development of the school system is at present more rapid, keeping pace with the general development in progress throughout the state. The log school house, even in remote sections, is becoming a thing of the past, and in its place is the substantial building of modern architectural design. The work of the pupils, even in country districts, and the standard of teaching required, will compare favorably with those of older states, holding their own with the best.

In our towns and cities the progress has been very rapid. West Virginia's public school advantages are equal in every respect to those of any state, and the showing at the World's Fair will prove it. What is needed now is more liberal appropriations for the Normal schools, which are so necessary to the perfection of our educational system.

An Important Difference.

To make it apparent to thousands, who think themselves ill, that they are not affected with any disease, but that the system simply needs cleansing, is to bring comfort home to their hearts, as a costive condition is easily cured by using Syrup of Figs.
